What's for lunch?

We teach children to eat their colours because fruit and vegetables of each colour have different vitamins and minerals in them, so eating a variety of colours is a healthy way to eat. A sandwich or wrap and some fruit and vegetables are a cheaper and healthier way to feed children than using pre-packaged foods which often have too much sugar and salt and little food value. There are lots of websites and Pinterest pages with great ideas for healthy lunches and many lunchboxes have separate compartments in them so you don't even need to wrap the food. This saves on buying wrapping and cuts down the rubbish. Simple healthy food will give your child a head start at school. Visit www.kidspot.co.nz/school-age/back-to-school/lunchbox for some great lunch box ideas.

Also some children are being given treats like chocolate and lollies to bring to school. Please save these for after school at home treats.
