Why teachers may take strike action

Teachers are currently in contract negotiations with the Ministry of Education.

Our main concerns are a need for;

- More resourcing for children with special/additional learning needs
- Better pay and working conditions to encourage more people into the profession (There's a current shortage and it will only get worse as Teachers retire!)

If the Ministry do not improve the offer they have made so far there may be a nationwide Teacher's strike on the 15th of August.

Details to follow in next weeks' newsletter.

You can show your support for Teachers by asking them about the campaign, talk with whanau about these issues and joining in on activities around the school this Friday.

Please support us in trying to provide the best education for your child.
