Why play is important

Play is one of the most important needs your child has. It is one of the ways children learn about and practise living in their world and their culture.

- It also helps children to manage their feelings and to cope with upsetting things that happen in their lives.
- Play helps build relationships.
- And play is relaxation and fun!
- Play ideas for parents
Read stories and nursery rhymes - an everlasting favourite. Hide and seek - make sure you are easy to find if the child is very young.
- Go for a walk - listen to different sounds e.g. birds, cars, footsteps, animal noises, find different surfaces to walk on, eg. lawn, gravel, leaves (don't make it all a lesson, just let children enjoy the walk).
- Gardening (especially digging, watering, playing in puddles!).
- Helping prepare a meal.
- Picnics - Swings.
- Painting with sponges and toothbrushes. Mix paint with a little detergent and use a sponge to make bubbly effects.
- Songs and dancing together.
- Pretend play - let the child decide who will play which role and make the rules.
- Dressing up - Puzzles.
- Simple card games, eg. snap. Young children need to win more than they lose and need you to let them change the rules sometimes.
- Kicking and throwing balls.
- Carpentry.
- A trip to the shops.
- Watch a favourite TV show or video together.
